BRIGADE ORDERS PUBLISHED, concerning the victory obtained by the Imperial Russian General Rosenberg: Head-quarters, Gloggnitz—Oct. 9.
The troops are previously informed, that the Imperial Russian General Rosenberg has attacked the enemy near Schwyz, and defeated him, with the loss of several thousand men, and a General; the General of Division, Lecourbe, was made prisoner, and seven pieces of cannon were taken.
COUNT MARVELDT, Major-General.
The victory of General Rosenberg was communicated to the whole of the Archduke's army. Private letters from the head quarters at Donauwörth, of the 8th inst. state the whole loss of the French to amount to upwards of 4000 men. The whole canton of Schwyz has been evacuated by the enemy, and the Russian army is on its march against Lucern. Whether these accounts are of an earlier date, or whether Suwarow is again advanced from the Grison country, is not mentioned.
ENGELN—OCT. 8.
It seems that several bodies of French troops are assembling in the neighbourhood of the Lake of Constance. Yesterday and the day before an uninterrupted heavy cannonade was heard from that quarter. To-day we learn that the French re-entered Constance last night after several severe engagements.
STUTTGART—OCT. 10.
To-day the Russians and Austrians have begun to advance again from the Rhine against the French in Switzerland, bridges of boats have been formed at Feldkirch and Rhineck which the army was to have crossed yesterday.
It is also said that higher up near the Forest towns an attempt will be made to cross the Rhine in the rear of the French army. The head quarters of the Archduke, who, it is said, will have the chief command on this side, were still at Donauwörth on the 9th, but he himself was in the neighbourhood of Schaffhausen. The French army on these points is somewhat weakened. Massena having withdrawn several bodies of troops by way of Zug to reinforce his right wing. The corps of Conde and the Palatine auxiliary troops are arrived in Switzerland. In the Grison country 50 Russian pieces of cannon with 1116 artillery men are arrived from Italy.
STRASBURGH—OCT. 6.
Yesterday the head-quarters of the army of the Rhine, under the provisory General in Chief, Ney, were removed from hence to Landau; all the troops are in motion, and will cross the Rhine in a few days.
FRANKFORT—OCT. 12.
The French Commissary, Lakanal, has enforced the decree concerning hostages, in the four departments on the left banks of the Rhine, in consequence of which in the department of the Rhine and the Moselle, eighty citizens, nobles, clergy, and electoral officers, have been carried off and confined in the Convent of St. Barbe at Coblenz.
RASTATT—OCT. 5.
We were this morning thrown into the utmost consternation by the French troops crossing the Rhine at Petersdorf. But the alarm-bells being rung, the inhabitants rose in such masses for the protection of their property, that the French could not succeed in their plundering excursion. They have also attempted crossing the Rhine at several other places, with uniform bad success.

By letters from Holland we understand, that Lieut. Col. SHARP had two horses shot under him, and was slightly wounded in the knee, in the action of the 2d inst.
Yesterday morning his Serene Highness, Prince William of Orange, arrived at his father's house in Conduitt-freet, from the army in Holland.
A private letter from an officer in our army in Holland, dated the 20th, states, that Col. Cunningham is still alive. His chin being shot away, the skin of his neck is sewed to his upper lip; he is in good spirits and likely to recover. Major Grey is in a dangerous situation. Capt. King, of the 56th is dead. Capt. Coleman of the Guards is alive, though a ball passed through his body. Prince William of Gloucester has shipped his carriages. The flux increases for want of rice.—There is a great want of straw. None of the officers have beds, they all sleep on hay.
In contemplating the tenour of the conditions entered into between the Duke of York and General Brune, we naturally feel some regret, that the necessity of the case should have obliged us to agree to the surrender (without conditions) of 8000 French or Dutch prisoners of war now in this country, "the proportion and choice of whom are to be determined by the French and Dutch Governments." The selection will of course comprise those men upon whose sentiments and services the French Directory can most depend. With these they will be enabled to send their fleet to sea, to prosecute those objects and plans with which their attention has so long been engaged. But confiding, as we do, in the vigilance and superiority of our navy, we entertain the fond hope, that ultimate advantage will arise to this country from the measure. It is only by skulking in port that the enemy stand any chance of preserving their ships; and any attempt they may be induced to make upon the British possessions will, we doubt not, end in their own discomfiture and disgrace.
Six hundred and fifty Dutch sailors, who arrived in the Calcutta, at Portsmouth, on Friday, hoisted the Orange cockade. The Commanders of the Dutch ships which surrendered in the Texel, have arrived in town on parole.
The English mails of the 4th instant from hence for Hamburg, sent on board the unfortunate Lutine, were found floating near the shore; the names of a number of estimable persons lost in that ship have, we understand, been returned to the General Post-office.
It is confidently reported, and we believe with truth, that Marquis Cornwallis has intimated to Government, that a considerable reinforcement of troops will be requisite in Ireland. The number is stated to be no less than 15,000 men.
Mr. Mason, the messenger, arrived at the Secretary of State's office, with dispatches from his Majesty's Minister at the Court of Vienna, containing an account of a victory having been obtained by the Austrian and Russian forces over the French General Lecourbe.
A grand council of war has been held at Schaffhausen, composed of several Russian Generals, the Russian Minister, Count STAKENBERG, and a deputy from the English Minister, Mr. Wickham after which, it is said, all the armies were again put in motion.

RAMSGATE—OCT. 17.
A of the 35th regiment, about 200 men, are arrived here from Margate, where they landed this morning from the Texel. This gallant regiment has been pretty much cut up. They embarked 900 strong, and the number returned is only about 500. Many of these poor fellows look as if they had undergone a great deal of fatigue, and indeed they have had a perilous voyage from the Helder, having been at sea ever since Wednesday last, and they were unfortunate enough to get on a sand bank, where they remained the better part of two days.
A great number of vessels have arrived in the Downs this day, and are now coming in. It is supposed they are also from the Texel, with troops, &c. When the 35th regiment left that place, they were embarking horses, artillery, stores, &c.
Five companies of the 35th regiment remain for the present at Margate, four companies at Ramsgate, and one at Broadstairs, where they are quartered.
CORN EXCHANGE, LONDON, O.C. 28.
We had a tolerable supply of New English Wheat at market this day, which was mostly taken off by Government's Agents, at last week's currency. A little Fine Foreign has come in, which meets a brisk sale at advanced prices.
Fine Old Barley continues brisk at prices last noted, and Malt is considerably advanced.
As but few Old Oats appear, and such being much wanted to mix off with the Ordinary New, they are a brisk sale at even an advance on last week's prices; but New malt is noted 2s. per quarter lower than this day's sale.
Old Beans are much as last noted; but as the New come now rather drier, they must be quoted from 2s. to 4s. per quarter higher.
In other Grain no alteration.
The Seed Trade continues brisk, and prices are supported.

EDINBURGH—OCTOBER 31.
The Edinburgh mail, which became due on Sunday, has not arrived; that of the 19th inst. has, however, come to hand, and brought intelligence of considerable interest. The defeat of Lecourbe, respecting which the French papers were so studiously silent, appears confirmed to its fullest extent; and the subsequent movements of the allied armies have been such, as to promise a favourable termination to the campaign, notwithstanding any partial checks they might yet have to sustain at particular points. Still, however, the accounts are not of quite so late a date as those given on telegraphic authority in the French papers.—See Extracts.
The lines of the contending armies appear to have been broke and disunited in such a manner, during the engagements of the 25th and 26th of September, as to create several separate corps on both sides. The Austro-Russian are now endeavouring to reunite themselves, while the French, under apprehension of being surrounded on three sides, fight desperately to prevent the junction of their adversaries, which would render the situation of the French army extremely critical and dangerous.
Our readers will find a very important declaration made by the EMPEROR OF RUSSIA. His Majesty openly declares it to be his desire to restore royalty in France, without dismembering her territories, to establish the ancient government of Holland, and of the Swiss Cantons, and to preserve the integrity of the German Empire.—See the Edinburgh Mail.
The attention of the King of Prussia is said to be now occupied in devising the means of bringing about a general peace. Letters from Frankfurt report, that a negotiation between the Emperor and France has already commenced at Paris, through his mediation; and that a French courier has lately passed through that city with a passport for Vienna. Similar reports are contained in accounts from Brussels; but the whole, although not unpleasing, present themselves at present in a shape rather questionable.
The grand fleet, under the command of Lord Bridport, failed from Torbay on Thursday last, and stood down Channel with a fair wind at N. E. to watch the motions of the Brest fleet.
[FROM OUR LONDON CORRESPONDENT.]
PROCLAMATION BY THE ARCHDUKE CHARLES.
The following is the substance of a proclamation, dated Suabia, the 10th inst., and addressed by his Royal Highness the ARCHDUKE CHARLES to the States and inhabitants of the Germanic Empire:—
The ARCHDUKE begins with noticing the uniform and unceasing exertions made by the deputies of the Empire at Rastadt, and the great sacrifices which they offered to procure peace for the Empire; and observes, that if the French had been equally desirous of promoting that important object, the negotiations would have been brought to a happy termination.
The French Government had, however acted in a manner directly repugnant to its own professions of pacification, and while the negotiations were carrying on, had treated the most solemn engagements with indifference, by levying the most burthenome contributions on the right and left bank of the Rhine with the utmost severity of military execution, and by referring to famine to compel the surrender of the fortresses of Ehrenbreitstein. It had also, under the mask of peace, perfidiously invaded the province of Suabia, and thus attempted to obtain a position in the heart of the Empire.
His Royal Highness next adverts to the vigorous exertions and timely interference of the Imperial army in relieving the different provinces from the depredations of France, and calls upon the States to furnish supplies in ready money, in corn forage, serviceable horses, linen, cloth, leather, or any common articles useful to the subsistence and support of the army by which they are protected. He trusts with confidence, that the inhabitants will also come forward individually, with free donations of the same nature, and proposes, that such as have neither ready money, nor articles in kind, will send whatever effects they may have in gold and silver, to the Royal mint, for which they are to receive obligations to bear 4 per cent. interest, from the date of receiving the patriotic gifts.
ARCHDUKE CHARLES,

MARRIED—
At London, Major JOHN MACDONALD, of the regiment of the Isles, to Miss CHAMBERS, eldest daughter of Sir Robert Chambers, late Chief Justice of the Supreme Court in Bengal.
At Bath, on the 23d inst., CHARLES HAMILTON, Esq. late of Tobago, to Miss MACDONNELL, daughter of the late Charles Macdonnell, Esq. of Newhall, county of Clare, Ireland.
—DIED—
On Saturday morning, at the Lord President's house, Park Place, Mr. ALEX. CAMPBELL, writer to the signet.
At London on 26th inst. Bailie GEORGE LAUDER, Baker. At Egmont-on-Zee, on the 8th inst., in consequence of a wound he received in his body in the action of the 6th inst. in Holland, Major LINDSAY CRAUFURD CAMPBELL, eldest son of the late John Campbell, Esq. of Newfield.
At Hant, on Wednesday 28th inst., Lady LINDSAY, relict of the late Vice-Admiral, K. B.
At Bath, on Sunday 28th inst., WILLIAM TULLOCH, Esq. of Tanquerie, in the county of Moray.
At Laurence House, near Haddington, on Friday the 25th inst., Mr. JOHN BARCLAY, son of the late Dr. George Barclay of Middleton.
At her house, Merchant Street, Edinburgh, on the 26th inst. Mrs. AGNES EWEN, relict of the late Mr. Edward Inglis, Druggist in Edinburgh.
At Edinburgh, on the 26th inst., GEORGE AGOSTUS HALDANE, Esq. of Glenelg.
At Edinburgh on Sunday the 27th inst. Miss MARJORY STUART, youngest daughter of James Stuart, Esq. Blairhall.
All the particulars relative to our army in Holland will be found in the foregoing columns.
We understand that advices are brought by a vessel which arrived at Leith in 7 days from Hamburg, of the French and Batavian residents in that city having quitted it. This may be looked upon as a declaration of war, and has probably been the effect of delivering up NAPPER TANDY.
For a long time past the London mail has been very late in arriving here. This morning it did come in till after nine o'clock. Owing to a similar cause our paper has been retarded, some days past, beyond the usual hour of publication.
We observe that the official return of the prices of meal in our market states the best to be 1s. 10d. per peck; yet it is certainly true that retailers are charging 1s. 11d. for it. The Superintendent of Police ought to attend to this immediately. It also deserves his attention to see that the meal is not mixed, which certainly is sometimes the case.
The Superintendent of Police would do great service to the Public by visiting some of the inferior retail shops, where the poorer ranks generally purchase their articles. The weights and measures should be carefully examined, and kept properly adjusted.
We would again hint to the incorporations of the city, and other public bodies, the propriety of laying in a stock of coals at present for the supply of their poor members during the winter months. By doing so, they might all be plentifully provided at a moderate price.
On account of the very high price of grain, several gentlemen have resolved not to keep any horses in town during the winter, which no doubt will tend to reduce the price of oats, and of course alleviate the distresses of the poor. We hope this resolution will be generally adopted.
It is with pleasure we understand, that Mr. COLCLOUGH, author of the very useful and curious Treatise on Police, is at present busied in another Work which bids fair for an equal share of the public favour, as it promises to be of national advantage. It is a Treatise on the Commerce, Navigation, and Police of the river Thames. We hope before the end of the year to be able to present our readers with a few extracts.
On the 28th current, the Justices of Peace for the county of Lanark, gave judgment on an information and complaint presented by JOHN PETTIGREW WILSON, coalmaler at Green of Shettleston, with the concurrence of the Procurator Fiscal of Court, against David Robertson, colliet at Green coalworks, for having entered into an unlawful combination for obtaining an advance of wages, contrary to the statute 39 Geo. III. cap. 84. The defender having been convicted on his own confession, the Justices found him liable to the statutory punishment of three months imprisonment; but, on the motion of Mr. WILSON, in respect of certain alleviating circumstances, the imprisonment was restricted to one month.
A woman who calls herself ELIZABETH CAMPBELL, about 26 years of age, and says she is a native of Edinburgh, was apprehended at Whitehaven last week. She had been going about that town for some days imposing upon the people by pretending she was deaf and dumb, but by signs could tell fortunes. When brought before the Magistrates, nothing could induce her to speak until they ordered her to be sent, to Bridewell, when she immediately fell down on her knees, and implored forgiveness.

NORTHERN MEETING.
It is with pleasure we announce, that the meeting was kept up this year with its usual liberality and spirit, and notwithstanding the necessary absence of many valuable characters belonging to it, was numerously and respectfully attended. It commenced on Monday the 21st of October, and continued for the week; and, in addition to the usual amusements, there were concerts in the forenoon, under the direction of Mess. URBANI and STABINI, from Edinburgh.
Lord and Lady BALGONIE, Sir JAMES GRANT, Lady GRANT and family, the Honourable Mrs. MACKAY of Reay and family, honoured the Meeting with their company. The Meeting is to commence the ensuing year, on the first Monday of October, and the following Members are appointed Stewards:—
Lord SEAFORTH, Col. GRANT of Glenmoriston,
Sir JAMES GRANT, Col. GRAZER of Kinchie,
Mr. FORBES of Culloden, G. BAILLIE, Esq. of London,
Mr. GRANT of Rothiemurchus, W. INGLIS, Esq. of Inverness.
TO THE
SIR,
An account has been given in the public papers of Mr. CLEGGHON's trial and name, at Inverness, which indeed merited a more early reply. The charges brought against me hold up our character to the world not only in the most ridiculous, but in the most insupportable manner; and in the case of those who respect more their conduct. Irregular they might be, from not being proclaimed for three Sabbath days in the churches, and I am sorry for having violated such a salutary law; but irregularities of this kind have been committed every day, both by churchmen and dissenters. With respect to clandestine marriages, so far as I understand the phrase, I never celebrated any. Those whom I married were all of them decent and respectable characters, well known to me and to the many witnesses who attended their nuptials, amongst whom were always some of the relations of the parties. If the celebration of nuptials by a dissenting minister constitutes a clandestine marriage, I confess I have committed the offence; but I suppose this interpretation will be admitted by few. Dissenters have been in the daily practice of celebrating marriages, and provided a proclamation of banns was made, those marriages were accounted legal. Are we not then under the fostering wing of our excellent constitution and legal toleration, as much as any other party of dissenters? No; it is replied, we belong to "an association, which, if not strictly illegal, is at least in its system, principles, and formation, novel and unprecedented in this country, and in its tendency dangerous, not only to the established religion, but the established government of the country."
This association is styled, The Society for propagating the Gospel at Home, concerning which much has of late been said, and various opinions formed. For my own part, I am intimately acquainted with many of the individuals of whom it is composed, and believe them incapable of designing any thing hostile to peace or good order. I have heard several accusations urged against the Society, but have observed, that not a single fact has been established to the prejudice of the characters of its members, or of those whom they employ; and till some of the many charges that have been brought forward shall be substantiated, I cannot condemn them, but must say I cordially approve their endeavours to press home upon the consciences of their fellow-men, in an age of infidelity, those valuable principles and doctrines contained in the Confession of Faith, which is subscribed as the creed of the Established Church, and which I firmly believe to be true.
While upon this subject, I must beg leave to rectify one mistake concerning the Society, stated among the charges in the account given of the trial; it is there asserted, that the "precaution of now enjoining its missionaries, by a special instruction, to avoid introducing politics into their harangues, was perhaps the more necessary from the former indiscretion of the members, some of them having, in their publication of a 1798 address, been accused of entertaining seditious principles." No such thing is admitted in their publications; it is indeed of people in various parts of the country, whose attention has been led away from sedition, principles to the great concerns of their souls by the labours of the catechists, which is very different from the above statement.—Even the name of the Society has been animadverted upon in that account, as "carrying with it a libel upon the Established Church, and being an insult to the morals and to the religion of the country;" but I must confess, it does not strike me in the same light, when I recollect names so similar and approved as those of the Society for propagating Christian Knowledge, the Society for promoting Religious Knowledge amongst the Poor, &c. Neither does it, appear surprising, that they have a Committee of Directors, which I believe is common to the above and to all societies; and I am informed by the Secretary that they carry on no stated correspondence "with other societies, either in England or Scotland," and have only received seven or eight letters in all from such since the commencement of their institution, which, along with their books, are always ready for inspection, and the most important of which have been published. It contains, however, with my certain knowledge, as I intimated for them to the north, that they do hold forth a precise and definite object of religious faith, even the precise standard of the Established Church; at the same time, I have every reason to believe they can say in the words of the Society for Propagating Christian Knowledge (in the Appendix to the sermon published 1795)—"The Society have for their object, not the partial views of any particular sect or denomination of Christians, but the great and general interests of religion." But however pure and praiseworthy that Society may be, I abandon it, as my authority to officiate in any part of my labours, as a minister of the Gospel. Our counsel was authorised by us to say, at Inverness, that we had not been sent to Caidness by that Society, and were not so much as members of it.
As the answer said to have been made by the Public Prosecutor involved a very serious charge against us, and has occasioned some remarks unfavourable to our characters, I beg leave to state an explanation, which our Counsel had no opportunity of giving, as the Public Prosecutor made no answer in Court to what was then said. The above assertion made by our Counsel was quite consistent with the account given in the Proceedings of the Society, wherein it is stated that we were employed by it to itinerate on our way to Caidness. It is evident from the charges brought against Mr. Cleggghon and me, that we were considered as connected with and dependent upon the Society in our ministerial capacity, and on this supposed connection, no small stress has been laid. The fact however is, that application had been made to us to labour in the situation we now occupy before this Society had an existence.—We accordingly went to England for ordination, and were regularly set apart to the work of the Ministry. Having come down from England, and being on our way to the north of Scotland, we were requested by the above Society, (which by this time had been formed) to itinerate for them on our way to Caidness. With this benevolent proposal we cordially complied; but when we arrived at our respective destinations, our labours under the inspection of the Society were at an end, and we have not since that period been under their direction. It is hoped that this will appear a full justification of what our Counsel stated for us at Inverness, and which would have been explained in Court, had the fact been controverted.
WILLIAM BALLANTINE.
P. S. Since I came to Edinburgh I heard that a certain gentleman had circulated a report, that I had been preaching Equality in Caidness, and that a Justice of Peace called upon me, and told me that if I continued to do so, he would have me brought to trial for it. I have called upon that gentleman, and informed him that there was not the smallest ground for such a base slander. He declared himself fully satisfied, and promised to contradict it. It is more than probable from such false aspersions there was a preconcerted taken, and witness examined, to discover Mr. Cleggghon's political principles and mine. But after a long and full investigation, the Sheriff Substitue declared to me at the Court-house of Thurso, that he believed we were perfectly loyal.
W. B.
A BOY, twelve years of age, left his Mother's house in the New Town on Tuesday morning, and has not since been heard of. He was of a genteel appearance, had on a round hat, short brown coat, swan-down vest, striped green and white, and thickest breeches. If such a boy has contrived to procure lodgings from any who may read this advertisement, their carrying him to this printing office, where his mother's place of residence will be learnt, will be gratefully and liberally acknowledged.
No cause whatever can be discovered for the boy's disappearance; he was ever kindly used, and will be received and treated with the utmost tenderness.

Day of Sale Fixed.

ESTATE IN THE NEIGHBOURHOOD OF GLASGOW
And Ecclefechan in the County of Renfrew.
To be sold by public roup, within the Tontine Coffeehouse, Glasgow, on Wednesday the 13th November next, 1799, at two o'clock afternoon.

THE LANDS and ESTATE of JORDANHILL, with the Mansion-house, Offices, and Garden thereto belonging, delightfully situated about four miles to the westward of Glasgow, within the parish and sheriffdom of Renfrew.

The Lands consist of about 227 acres Scots, or nearly 283 acres English measure, of which upwards of 19 Scots acres are laid out in thriving plantations, some of which are far advanced. There are besides a great many old trees in hedge rows upon the estate, which might be thinned to advantage.

The Lands are well inclosed and subdivided, partly with ditches and hedges, and partly with stone dykes. The parks are all well sheltered, and in general well watered.

The present rent, including 80l. for the coal, is only about 360l. yearly; but, on the expiry of two leases of moderate endurance, a considerable rise of rent may be depended upon.

A purchaser may have immediate access to the House, Office, and Garden, and upwards of one half of the Lands.

A Freehold Qualification in the county of Renfrew will be sold at the same time, either along with the estate, or separately, as may suit intending offerers.

For further particulars application may be made to Mess. Dundas and Robertson, clerks to the signet, Edinburgh, or Mr Robert Graham, writer, Glasgow.

CERTAIN PARTS of the Lordship and Estate of ARBUTHNOTT, in the lots following, viz.

There is abundance of Sea-water to be had on the coast, and there is an extensive Lime Quarry upon the lands, with every suitable accommodation for working it.

II. THE LANDS of NEWBEGGING, the Lands of OVERKINMONTH, Easter and Wester, the Lands of BOGBURN, and the Lands of NETHER KINMONTH, with the Pertinents, including the privilege of digging and carrying peats from the mosses of Drumleys; which lands are erected into a barony, called the BARONY of KINMONTH, lying in the parish of Glenbervie, and shire of Kincardine.—Also, the Lands of the OUT-TOWN of DRUMLITHIE, called BROOMBANK, FRANCE, BLACKSNOB, and CAMDIE, and the Lands of IN-TOWN of DRUMLITHIE, lying in the parish of Arbuthnot, and shire of Kincardine. III. THE LANDS of MEIKLE FIDDES, with the Mill and Mill Lands of the same, and the Lands of COLLESTOWN, lying in the parish of Arbuthnot, and shire of Kincardine. These lands consist of about 402 Scotch acres, whereof about 3-fourths are arable. They are also very well situated for Markets, the Great Turnpike Road from Laurencekirk to Stenhouse running through them in a most convenient direction. All the above lands hold of the Crown.

For further particulars application may be made to Charles Selkirk, accountant in Edinburgh, who has powers to sell by private bargain, or to George Tod, writer in Edinburgh, in whose hands are lodged plans of the lands, and the progress of writs.

SALE OF LANDS IN EAST LOTHIAN.

To be sold by private Bargain.

THE very valuable Lands and Estates of FANTASSIE, HOUSTON, HOUSTON-MILL, LINTON, LINTON-MILL, EAST FORTUNE, MYRESIDE, and GOODFELLOWS LAND, lying in the county of Haddington, altogether in one lot; or, as several applications have been made for a division of the estates into lots, the proprietor will now treat for a sale thereof, in the following lots, viz.

Lot I. Comprehending the Lands and Estate of Fantassie, lying in the parish of Prestonpaul, on the south side of the river Tyne, and the Lands lying between the river and the state of Smeaton, all as at present in the occupation of Mr George Rennie, with the Waulkmill of Houston, possessed by Andrew Meikle, containing 332 A. 1 R. 9 F. of very rich land, together with the Salmon Fishings belonging to said lands.

Lot II. The Lands of Linton, with the Mill of Linton, at present under lease to Mr Rennie, consisting of 121 acres and 33 falls, with the feus of Linton and Common belonging thereto, all lying on the north side of the river Tyne, and within the parish of Prestonpaul.

Lot III. The Lands and Estate of East Fortune, Myreside, and Goodfellow's Lands, lying in the parish of Arthursford, and consisting of 675 acres, as at present possessed by John and James Howden.

These Lands are delightfully situated in the richest and most beautiful part of East Lothian, and are in the highest state of cultivation. They lie about twenty miles from Edinburgh, and about five miles from Dunbar and Haddington.

The river Tyne divides lots first and second, on each of which there is a Mill, and a command of water, with an eligible situation for carrying on an extensive Manufactory, and the high road from Edinburgh to London intersects the property.

On Lot first there is a valuable Limestone Quarry, wrought by the tenant, affording an abundant supply of lime, not only for his own farm, but also for sale, and which the proprietor has also an unlimited power to work for his own account, on paying surface damages.

The greater part of the Village of Linton and a Distillery are situated on Lot second, and the proprietor, besides the 121 acres before mentioned, has right to a Common in the neighbourhood, containing 70 acres of very improvable land, subject to certain servitudes of pasturage.

The tack duty of the above lands, which is at present only from 900l. to 1000l. consists chiefly of wheat, barley, and oats, payable either in kind, or in the option of the proprietor, at the rate of the highest fairs for the county of Haddington, but as the subsisting leases were agreed on about forty years ago, and for grassums paid by the tenants, the present rent is no rule by which to estimate their value, as they would yield at least three times the present rent on the expiry of the leases.

On each of the Lots there are substantial Dwelling Houses and Farm Steadings, which belong to the proprietor, and there are several beautiful and most eligible situations for a Mansion.

It is supposed that there is Coal on each of the Lots, but particularly on Lot third, and were coals to be wrought on this estate, it would yield a very great rent to the proprietor.

The Lands hold of the Crown, and stand valued in the cess books at 2196l. 18s. 4d. Scots, affording five freehold qualifications within the county of Haddington.

The title deeds, rentals, and plans of the estates, may be seen in the hands of James and Alexander Fraser, writers to the signet; and any person desirous of purchasing, by private bargain, may transmit their offers to Alexander Shand, or Alexander Crombie, advocates in Aberdeen.

SALE OF LANDS IN ROXBURGHSHIRE.

To be sold by public roup, within the Royal Exchange Coffeehouse, Edinburgh, on Monday the 18th November 1799, betwixt the hours of two and three afternoon, if not previously sold by private bargain.

THE LANDS and ESTATE of ORCHARD, in the parish of Cavers, and part of the LANDS of WEENSLAND and WEENSLAND MILL, in the parish of Hawick. These lands lie contiguous, and form together a compact estate, situated in a plentiful country, bounded on the north by the river Tiviot, and on the west by the inclosures of the town of Hawick, a good market town, in which several flourishing manufactures are established. The turnpike road from Carlisle to Berwick, by Hawick and Kelso, runs through the north part of the estate, and the turnpike road from Edinburgh to Newcastle, by Selkirk and Hawick, runs along the east side of it.

There is on the estate a genteel modern built Mansion-house, Stables, and other offices, a Garden well stocked with fruit trees; also several stripes and clumps of planting, in a thriving condition. The whole estate is inclosed, well watered, and in excellent order, and is situated in the immediate vicinity of an inexhaustible fund of marle, to which there is easy access by good roads.

The present free rent payable by a few substantial tenants, (putting a moderate valuation on the lands in the natural possession of the proprietor, on which is lately built a small neat house, called Orchard Cottage, with suitable offices) is about five hundred and twenty-five pounds Sterling.

Such as incline to purchase, may apply to William Keith, Accountant, Edinburgh; William Balderston, W.S. or Mr Usher, at Crowhill, near Hawick. Mr Balderston will show rental, title-deeds, and articles of roup; and an inventory of the title-deeds, a copy of the rental, and a plan of the estate may be seen by applying to Mr Usher.

The Proprietor, or his servants, will shew the Mansion-house and grounds.

Mr Keith is empowered to sell by private bargain, and will receive offers betwixt and the day of sale.
